MUNROE K

Placemaking Innovation Collaboration

Munroe K are the owner and operator of the successful, Leeds based White Rose Park. Their ownership spans over 3 decades and has seen upwards of £100m invested to create the amazing Technology, Education and Business Park you see today. WRP started life as Systime, a Computer Chip manufacturer in 1982. Having been acquired by Munroe K in 1995, development has seen a further 7 buildings and 2 multi storey car parks constructed. Heading into 2024, Munroe K's ambition is to continue to adapt WRP into a human-scale environment through their extensive ESG programme.

White Rose Railway Station will be opening in 2026, providing a much needed additional service to the wider south Leeds community. The station development is the first of its kind to be delivered under a Public/Private Partnership in the UK further demonstrating Munroe K's ability to create workable solutions to everyday problems.
